

Social and Personal

Governor and Mrs. Mann will hold their annual public reception on the evening of January 2, from 9 to 11 o'clock. The members of the Governor's staff and their wives will assist in receiving on that evening.

Box Party Tuesday.
Colonel and Mrs. J. M. Payne were hosts of a box party last Tuesday evening at the Academy of Music. Their guests for that evening included Colonel and Mrs. Massie, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Massie and Colonel J. Lane Stern.

Others noted in boxes that evening were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glasgow, of London, England; Mrs. Walker, George W. Stevens and Miss Elsie Branch.

Back From New York.
Miss Ellen Glasgow, who has been the guest of friends in New York for the past several weeks, has returned to her home in this city. Miss Glasgow also visited friends in Philadelphia for some time.

Princeton Glee Club.
Society is looking forward to the appearance of the Princeton Glee Club at the Jefferson Hotel Auditorium tonight.

A great many parties have been arranged to attend this concert, and a number of attractive little supper parties will follow the concert.

The patronesses of the affair include some of the most prominent women in Richmond, and the concert will be one of the most attractive events of the holidays.

After the concert at the Jefferson club will attend the Christmas party given at the Westmoreland Club, leaving on the midnight train for Princeton.

Brilliant Norfolk Wedding.
The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot of Thursday contains the following of interest here:

"The first wedding to be solemnized in Christ Church, in Olney Road, took place last evening, when Miss Alice Old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Old, became the bride of William Morton Dey, formerly of this city, but now of the University of North Carolina. The handsome church presented a brilliant scene when at 8 o'clock the bride entered with her father, by whom she was given away. The church was banked in palms and potted plants, and the ceremony was performed by Dr. Francis C. Steinmetz, Professor J. J. Miller presided at the organ. The bride was gowned in white meteor crepe trimmed with real lace and hand embroidery; her veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower of lilies of the valley and bride roses. Miss Katherine Yonge, of Richmond, was maid of honor; she wore white satin, with crystal trimmings, and carried pink roses. Miss Alice Herbert Webster, the bride's little niece, was first bridesmaid. Her dress was of white tulle and her flowers pink roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Ford Wortham, of Richmond; Miss Mabel Dobson, of Lynchburg; Miss Mabel Allen, Miss Mary Lou Hogard, Miss Alice Bell and Miss Elizabeth Old. Their gowns were of white lace over pink silk meshing, and they carried bouquets of maiden hair ferns.

"Calvert Rogers Dey, brother of the groom, was best man; the ushers were Chester Murray, of the University of Missouri; Oliver Taules, of the University of North Carolina; Thomas Purcell, of Richmond; Albert Roper, Hunter Bell, Lee Taylor, Walter Dey and Dr. Herbert Old.

A beautiful reception, to which only relatives and the younger friends of the bride couple were invited, was held at the bride's home immediately after the ceremony. The house was elaborately decorated with palms, ferns, holly and scarlet poinsettias. After their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Dey will make their home in Chapel Hill, N. C."

For Miss Hamilton.
Robertson Griswold entertained at a beautiful dinner Tuesday night at his home, 1123 Park Avenue, Baltimore, in honor of Miss Hamilton, of Petersburg. Covers were laid for ten guests, who afterward attended the dancing at the Lehigh Valley Hotel.

Miss Hamilton has been visiting friends in Washington and Baltimore for several weeks past and will not return to Petersburg until some time in January.

Weddings in Albemarle.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Charlotteville, Va., December 29.—Charles Arthur Burk, of Oak Hill, Va., and Miss Mary Lucy Durrett were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Durrett, of Earlysville, this county, the Rev. Mr. Burnett, of the Longwood Church, officiating. Miss Burk, of Oak Hill, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Eva Durrett, sister of the bride, Miss Lila Crickenberger, of Rockingham county, and Miss Cutler, of Oak Hill, Va., cousins of the groom. Eugene Durrett, brother of the bride, was the best man, and the groomsmen were George D. Crickenberger, Nash Birchard and Paul Durrett, brother of the bride. An evening reception followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Burk left for their future home in West Virginia.

Clarence D. Houchens and Miss An-

Eberhard-Hicks.
A pretty wedding was celebrated Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hicks, on the Williamsburg Road, when their daughter, Miss Rosa Alice Hicks, became the bride of Lloyd C. Eberhard, the Rev. V. W. Bargamini, pastor of Denny Street Methodist Church, officiating.

The bride wore a becoming suit of blue chiffon broadcloth, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a bouquet of bride roses. She was attended by Miss Orly Eberhard, sister of the groom, as maid of honor. Miss Eberhard wore a dress of white silk and carried carnations. Philip Wagner was the groom's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Eberhard left immediately after the ceremony for the North, after which they will be at home on Williamsburg Road at the home of the bride's parents.

To Lecture Here.
A pleasant feature of the New Year season in Richmond will be the appearance at the Jefferson Hotel auditorium on the evening of January 5, of Max Eastman, who comes to the city under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage League.

Mr. Eastman, who is a member of the faculty of Columbia University, New York, is secretary and treasurer of the Men's League for Women's Suffrage, and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Valentine, of 2333 Monument Avenue, while in Richmond. He is a man of brilliant attainments and has lectured with the greatest success in Baltimore, Philadelphia and other Northern cities. As he is the first man who has spoken on suffrage in Richmond, he will doubtless attract and interest a large audience.

Directresses at Annual Meeting.
Invitations sent by the central committee of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, to the directresses of branches in various parts of the State, to be the committee on the evening of January 5, in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Society, to be held in accordance with Mrs. W. Duke, of the Charlottesville branch; Mrs. John Letcher, of the Norfolk branch; and Miss Sule C. Le Cato, of the Drummond Town branch.

Mrs. Duke, while in Richmond, will be the guest of Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson. Miss Le Cato will be entertained by Mrs. William Ruffin Cox, and Mrs. Letcher will also visit friends during her stay. The directresses will read the reports of their respective branches at the meeting.

Richmond members of the association are notified of the date and place of the annual meeting, and urged to attend, as usual. All are urged to be present at the meeting and to voice their personal interest in the business features of the meeting, at which, of course, the election of officers for the ensuing year will be held.

Meetings To-Day.
There will be a called meeting of the Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, this morning at 11 o'clock in Lee Camp Hall. This meeting is for the purpose of making final arrangements for the annual dinner given to the veterans at the Soldiers' Home, January 4. All members interested are asked to be present.

Miss Watkins Entertains.
Elizabeth Watkins, of South Laurel Street, entertained a few of her friends informally on Wednesday evening. Music and games amused the guests, and supper was served at midnight. Some of the present were: Misses Boryle Holland, Mary Winfree, Myrtle Bradshaw, Marie Lukhard, Myrtle Rickman; Messrs. Lukhard, Holland, Jennings, Winfree, Pettus Watkins, Judson Watkins and Lee Watkins.
